Brooklands Park Masterplan

In 2018 there was a successful online consultation into creating a plan for the long-term development of Brooklands Park. More than 800 people gave their views on how to improve the park. There has since been a subsequent master plan produced to develop the Park. In light of the marked incongruence between the subsequent plan and the outcome of the public consultation, this council declares that the current direction of development of Brooklands Park will not meet the needs of the public.

As a result of this declaration, the council asks that our officers

- A. Revisit the consultation and produce a publicly available, clearly written summary of the consultation outcomes.
- B. Rework the master plan to produce a version that is in keeping with the public desire for a development that retains the essential character of the park
